Communication

My proficiency in English enables me to effectively collaborate with teams and clients, ensuring the delivery of high-quality results.

Leadership

As a member of school project teams, I occasionally took on leadership roles, striving to listen to team members' opinions and contribute my own ideas to produce the best outcomes. Despite facing challenges such as lack of participation and communication issues, I persevered through continuous dialogue and democratic approaches, ultimately achieving excellent results. These experiences were invaluable opportunities for me to realize and embrace the importance of leadership and teamwork.
